

CITY PAID TRIBUTE TO HENRY GEORGE

IMPRESSIVE SCENES AT THE FUNERAL SUNDAY.

Thousands at His Bier—Men of All Shades of Religious and Public Belief Follow the Leader to His Grave—Wonderful Demonstrations of Sorrow.

New York, Nov. 1.—The memory of Henry George was honored Sunday by the entire city and the neighboring boroughs. From sunrise until midnight countless thousands of men, women and children showed their reverence for the dead leader in a manner befitting his life. His funeral will go down to history as a public demonstration unique in the annals of New York and America.

Over the bier of the man who had struggled for the uplifting of the poor during his life, and who died at the head of his forces of political independence and municipal honesty, fell the tears of fully 50,000 citizens. Outside in the streets, unable to gain admittance to the Grand Central Palace, where the body lay in state, were 50,000 more, impatient in their sorrow. And then came the procession to Brooklyn, the like of which has never before been seen, even in cosmopolitan New York.

Creed played no part in the funeral nor did race or politics. A clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal church, a Roman Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi joined their eloquence in the common tribute of the people. Men high in political and social life, who disagreed with Henry George's philosophy, but who realized and honored his manhood, were there. Workingmen, the majority in their Sunday attire, some in overalls and jumpers, were there. The negro rubbed elbows with his white brother and was welcome. Men and women prominent in the world of letters mingled with the humble disciple of the leader gone before.

In all that vast throng but one thought was uppermost, but one sentiment found utterance. The world had lost a man whose only thought was for the welfare of his fellow men.

The body was removed from the Union Square hotel before the sun had risen. At that early hour the streets were almost deserted, and the cordon of policemen stationed along the route were the only spectators to this first step in the procession to the tomb.

At the Grand Central Palace a crowd had already collected, and hats were reverently removed as the casket was carried up the steps, thence to the large hall on the second floor.

Everything was exceedingly plain. The casket was placed at the head of the main aisle, directly in front of the speaker's stand. American flags were festooned about a draped portrait of Henry George, and the rostrum was a mass of flowers.

At 7 o'clock the main doors were opened. There was no confusion. The police arrangements were perfect. Vast crowds surged through the hall, paused at the bier and passed out again. The upper portion of the casket was open, and through the glass covering could be seen the face of the man who loved and was beloved by many thousands.

It was not until the impassioned eloquence of Dr. McGlynn had touched a responsive chord in the hearts of that great assemblage of mourners that the sorrow of silence gave way to triumphant applause. The reaction had set in. Nerves strung to a high tension succumbed, and then a strange thing happened—a thing not to be wondered at in continental Europe, but foreign to all precedents in America.

During the orations of Dr. McGlynn and Mr. Crosby one might have thought that the spirit of Henry George had forsaken its habitation only to seek fresh existence in the breasts of the multitude. It was as though Henry George, lying calm in the restfulness of death, still spoke to his followers through the medium of other lips. At every mention of his name, after the first spontaneous burst of applause, the dome of that great auditorium fairly trembled with the outpouring of an enthusiasm which seemed accentuated rather than subdued by the presence of death.

When Mr. Crosby paused, irresolute, and exclaimed, "I can say no more," from every part of the hall came shouts of "Go on! Go on!" and when, in a final burst of magnetic ardor, he cried: "There lie the remains of Thomas Jefferson reincarnate!" it was several moments before he was suffered to proceed.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies another opportunity was given those in the hall to view the remains. Then the crowd, once more subdued, filed slowly out into the streets.

At 7 o'clock the casket was carried out into Lexington avenue and placed upon a catafalque, drawn by sixteen horses. Many labor organizations and single-tax societies had massed their numbers in the side streets and joined the procession, which wended its way slowly down to the bridge and over to Brooklyn.

All along the line of march the prevailing sentiment was one of sorrow and respect. Even the policemen removed their helmets as the cortege passed. The streets were black with people, and here again all classes of society were represented.

Upon the arrival of the cortege at the city hall, in Brooklyn, the casket was transferred to the hearse and removed to the George homestead, at Ft. Hamilton. Interment will be made to-day.

INDIANA TOWN BURNED OUT.

Halloween Franks Start a Fire Which Costs Fort Branch $30,000.

Princeton, Ind., Nov. 1.—Boys celebrating Halloween are responsible for the destruction by fire of almost the entire business portion of the town of Fort Branch, this county, Saturday night. A lighted cigarette thrown among some rubbish in the rear of Silas Gillespie's implement store started the fire. The loss is $30,000. Before the sleeping inhabitants awoke to fight the flames several buildings were on fire. The little bucket brigades could not reach the buildings, owing to the intense heat, and the scarcity of water rendered their efforts futile.

While the fire was at its height 30 pounds of dynamite in Walters' hardware store exploded. People in the street were thrown to the ground by the concussion. Red-hot iron window weights tore great holes in roofs of houses in the vicinity. The town was panic-stricken. The fire continued until daylight. The town records were destroyed.

SPAIN HAS TO YIELD.

Accedes to American Demand in Competitor Case.

Madrid, Nov. 1.—The competitor case was taken up Sunday by Foreign Minister Gullon, Colonial Minister Moret, and Naval Minister Bermejo, to whom the matter had been referred by the Cabinet.

The communication from the United States government touching the affair was carefully examined, together with the Spanish evidence that the competitor was a filibuster. After mature consideration the Ministers named reached the conclusion, in view of the precedents established in the case by the Duke of Tetuan while he was Foreign Minister, and by the Conservative Cabinet of Senor Canovas and General Azcarraga, that Spain must satisfy the demands of the American State department.

Farms for Old Soldiers.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 1.—Gen. A. S. Wiesert of Milwaukee, Wis., and Gen. Paul Vandervoort of Omaha, Neb., each an ex-grand commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Gen. R. N. Adams of Minneapolis, have just secured 22,000 acres of land in the coast region of Texas. This purchase is made for locating thereupon veterans of the late war, 800 families of whom are said to be en route for settlement on the lands. The location selected is in Matagorda county.

War in India Near the End.

Simla, Nov. 1.—According to a dispatch from Karappa the expected advance to Arhanga Pass was made Sunday morning. Gen. Westmacott seized the villages covering the line of advance and the artillery, brought into action at half-past 8 o'clock, soon expelled the tribesmen from the Sangars. Only slight opposition was encountered. The crest was reached and the pass captured by Gen. Westmacott at half-past 10. The British sustained only a trifling loss.

Still After the Lynchers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—It is authoritatively announced that Gov. Mount and Attorney-General Ketcham have not abandoned hope of securing the indictment and punishment of the men who lynched the five thieves at Versailles six weeks ago. Forces are now at work that will, it is believed, accomplish something. It is stated that the state does not intend to move with undue haste, and no arrests are looked for before Dec. 1.

Hero of the Civil War Dead.

Wickford, R. I., Nov. 1.—William J. Babcock, a veteran of the civil war, is dead at Wakefield, South Kingston, aged 56 years. He was color sergeant of the Second Rhode Island volunteers at the storming of Petersburg in April, 1865, and was the first man to place the stars and stripes over the captured confederate breastworks. For his gallantry on this occasion congress gave him a medal.

Drought in Illinois Broken.

Carlyle, Ind., Nov. 1.—The first heavy rainfall since July 3 visited this section Sunday night. Many lakes and creeks have entirely dried up. In many cases the water has been hauled for ten miles. Wheat has been sown for over thirty days, but has remained in a dormant condition owing to the unprecedented drought.

Germany Supports the Sultan.

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The Ottoman government has notified the powers that it objects to the appointment of Colonel Schaeffer, an officer in the army of Luxemburg, as provisional commissioner of the powers for the island of Crete. The German government supports the objections of Turkey.

Prof. W. D. Saunders Dead.

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 1.—Professor W. D. Saunders died last night at his home in this city. He was one of the noted men of the west, formerly of the Young Ladies' Athenaeum and Illinois Conservatory of Music of this place, and was for many years professor of rhetoric in Illinois College. He was in early days an ardent abolitionist, and did grand work as an orator and friend of the union during the war.

CHAS. B. FARWELL ADVISES ON BONDS

SAYS HE IS IN FAVOR OF A BANK NOTE CURRENCY.

Talks of National Banks—Former United States Senator From Illinois Gives the Monetary Commissioners His Views as to the Proper Financial Policy.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Many prominent business men, as well as bank presidents and those more directly concerned with financial operations, are sending their views to the monetary commission in response to the series of interrogatories the commission has sent out. While there is a great variety of opinion expressed, members of the commission declare that they are finding these expressions of great interest—in the first place as affording a photograph of educated financial opinion in the country, and in the second place as affording many particular suggestions which might escape attention if opinions were not sought from many sources. Western business men, as well as those of the East, are expressing their views freely to the commissioners, and have in most cases shown their willingness, in response to inquiry, to have them made public.

Among the important communications received from Chicago recently was one from Charles B. Farwell, who served in the senate for four years as the successor of Gen. Logan. Mr. Farwell expresses the opinion that silver and silver certificates should be redeemed in gold, because the government has issued both. "One is a promise to pay on paper," he declares, "and the other is a promise to pay on silver." Mr. Farwell believes that if the silver certificates were redeemed in gold all would be presented within a very short time, and probably 90 per cent of the silver dollars.

He says, in regard to facilitating the use of silver currency, that he does not believe in forcing circulation of either gold or silver, but should leave it to the demands of the people. He sees no objections to having the national banks issue circulating notes of a denomination less than $5.

Senator Farwell is a believer in replacing the existing government currency with a bank-note currency, but does not believe in issuing notes without specific security. He thinks it possible to rely upon national government bonds, so far as they will go, and whenever it is demonstrated that there is a lack of currency and that United States bonds have all been put up as collateral for national bank notes, then he would authorize the use of other bonds as security for any additional amount which commerce might require. He believes that a committee, consisting of the secretary of the treasury, the treasurer of the United States and the controller of the currency can be safely trusted to take these securities at a price to amply secure any additional bank notes which the country might need.

Senator Farwell declares flatly that he "would not permit any bank to issue notes without putting up the necessary collateral security. He thinks $50,000 should be the minimum limit of capital for national banks and that national banks should not be permitted to establish branches. He favors more serious changes in regard to the government paper notes than the existing national bank notes.

Strawboard Trust Controls.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 1.—A strawboard trust, controlling every plant in the United States, was effected last week. For three years efforts have been made to bring every strawboard plant into a combination, and by those efforts the American Strawboard company, controlling nineteen plants, was organized and established offices in New York city, with C. W. Bell of Cincinnati in charge. Twelve companies, however, remained out. They were all brought into line during the last week, and at a quiet session the trust was organized.

Dubuque's Bones Buried.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 1.—Julien Dubuque's bones, found with those of two Indian chiefs a few days ago by the builders of a monument upon his grave, were Sunday deposited in a sarcophagus within the monument. The exercises were under the auspices of the Early Settlers' association and were attended by 2,000 persons. J. H. Shields delivered the oration.

Whitney May Be Defeated.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 1.—The general election returns continue favorable to the opposition. Trinity district has furnished the greatest surprise of the campaign. With 1,500 votes already counted out of a probable ballot of 8,000, the Premier, Sir William Whiteway, is 350 behind the opposition candidates. His defeat and that of his colleagues are therefore probable.

Retain Pork Duties.

Paris, Oct. 30.—The customs committee of the chamber of deputies has decided to recommend that the government maintain the previously adopted duties on pork products, including lard, with the exception of reducing the duty on salt pork, hams and bacon from 30 to 25 francs.

Miss Ina Bates leaves for Des Moines, Ia., this winter, where she has accepted a position as stenographer.

BLANCO IN COMMAND OF SPANISH ARMY

GEN WEYLER YIELDS UP HIS AUTHORITY IN CUBA.

Cheer the New Governor—People of Havana Give a Cordial Greeting to the Representatives of Spain—Immense Crowd Witnesses the Departure of Weyler.

Havana, Nov. 1.—The Spanish cruiser, Alfonso XIII., with Marshal Blanco, the new governor-general of Cuba, on board, was sighted Sunday morning at 5.30. At 7 o'clock the Alfonso XIII. entered the harbor, and Lieut.-Gen. Weyler, the Marquis Ahumada, Admiral Navarro and other high military and naval officers went to the special steamer to meet Gen. Blanco.

After a long and cordial conference, Lieut.-Gen. Weyler yielded up his command to his successor. At 10.30 Marshal Blanco landed. According to the official account he was "enthusiastically greeted" by the populace, who shouted: "Long live Blanco!"

Lieut.-Gen. Weyler and Marshal Blanco exchanged farewells on board the Alfonso XIII., and the steamer Montserrat sailed at 1 o'clock p. m. She was escorted outside the harbor by numerous tugs laden with the friends of the departing general and the officers of his staff. An immense crowd witnessed the departure from the wharves. According to the official account the people cheered for "Weyler, the pacificator." Gen. Weyler's escort on the Montserrat consists of 600 sick soldiers.

MISS WILLARD'S POSITION.

Explicit Statement in Regard to the Temple at Chicago.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Asked by an Associated Press representative for a more explicit definition of her position on the Chicago Temple matter and the Lady Somerset controversy than appeared from her remarks following the delivery of her annual address, Miss Frances E. Willard said:

"I do not propose to see the temple enterprise abandoned. I believe my regained health should be used in efforts to raise the money to pay interest on the bonds that has always been kept up until this year and to secure funds whereby the $300,000 worth of temple trust bonds can be retired. While it is true they had no legal responsibility whatever, the bonds having been put forth by Mrs. Carse, the white-ribbon women have a moral responsibility and I propose to do my utmost to see those bonds paid in full. One hundred thousand dollars has already been secured of the $300,000 necessary, and I believe the good people of this country will respond to my call. I do not propose to lay this burden upon the local unions, but to make an appeal to the Christian and philanthropic public."

Miss Willard added that she did not propose that the W. C. T. U. should absolutely own The Temple, but that $300,000 be held by that body so that they should hold a controlling interest in the enterprise.

In reply to a question as to the election of Lady Henry Somerset during the world's convention Miss Willard stated that Lady Henry Somerset's selection was made by the executive committee of the world's W. C. T. U., which elected all the other officers and which was the executive branch of the society. Nothing unusual was done, the society being constituted on the same basis as the National Women's council, that being to represent different countries equally and not to allow the country in which the convention happens to be held to hold the balance of power.

PRESIDENT AT CINCINNATI.

Greeted With Cheers and a Salute of Twenty-One Guns.

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.—President McKinley and party arrived at 10.45 on Saturday, debarking at Torrence Road, two miles from the terminal depot. A great crowd had gathered at the little station, which is merely a crossing where Torrence Road begins the ascent of the hill bordering the Ohio river. A salute of twenty-one guns were fired, while cheers from the multitude mingled with the echoes of cannon.

The president was gracious in his recognition of the honor shown him as he appeared on the platform with Chairman F. D. Schmiedlappe of the reception committee. He bowed repeatedly as again and again the cordial greetings were conveyed to him. The party immediately took carriages for Mr. Schmiedlappe's home, where the president and party were entertained.

Five Dangerously Hurt.

Mount Pleasant, Pa., Nov. 1.—During a hay ride last night a wagon containing thirteen couples was upset and all were more or less injured. Five persons were dangerously hurt. Their names are:

Nettie Adams, skull fractured; reported to be dying.

May Simpson, hurled against the curbstone and rendered unconscious for several hours; may not recover.

William McNaughton.

Edward Sheppard.

Washington Bell, colored, driver; leg broken and otherwise injured.

Fire at Warren, Mass.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 1.—Fire in the business section of Warren early Sunday morning caused $75,000 damage. The town hall was partially burned and several blocks destroyed.

AUSTRIA IMPORTING WHEAT.

United States Called Upon to Supply a Big Shortage.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture has just issued a report prepared under his direction by Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets, that gives some interesting facts relative to the present wheat shortage in Austria-Hungary and the consequent importation into that country of American grain.

According to the United States consul at Reichenberg, Austria, an importation of 400 carloads of American wheat was made as early as August, coming by the way of Hamburg. Other importations were reported, among them one of 36,700 bushels of red winter No. 2 and Kansas wheat, purchased through the Vienna Produce exchange.

After recounting these unusual importations of the present season, the bulletin presents a careful review of the grain situation in Austria-Hungary during the past ten years. The crops of the present season are remarkably small.

If the official estimates are fulfilled the combined wheat production of Austria and Hungary will amount to little more than 130,000,000 bushels, or 60,000,000 bushels short of the crop harvested in 1896 which was estimated at about 190,000,000 bushels.

YELLOW FEVER FALLING OFF.

Cooler Weather Works Good Results in the Plague Region.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 1.—Special reports from the fever-infected points show a material falling off in the number of new cases. New Orleans heads the list with thirty-five cases and five deaths. No deaths are reported except in this city. The decrease is due to a material fall in the temperature. For the first time this season all of the local theaters are open.

The state has gone to the limit of its financial aid, and the city council has declared that it can give no more money to stamp out the fever. The amount on hand will run the authorities not beyond Nov. 10, and it is all but certain that frost will not visit New Orleans by that time. There is talk of a popular subscription to meet the difficulty, $25,000 being necessary to continue the work of isolation until the cold weather.

Ask for Postponement.

London, Nov. 1.—The firm of Coates, Son & Co., who recently undertook the formation of a syndicate for the purchase of the Union Pacific railway line and who have offered to pay in full for the government claims on the main line and the Kansas division if the government will secure a postponement of both sales to Dec. 15 next, yesterday sent a cable message to President McKinley suggesting that the United States government should secure the postponement of the sale until that date.

Mrs. Townsley's Great Sermon.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Music Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity Sunday afternoon when Rev. Frances E. Town of Michigan delivered the annual sermon to the delegates to the national convention of the W. C. T. U. The meeting opened with scripture reading by Miss Mary E. Blood of Illinois and prayer by John Woolley of Illinois. Mrs. Townsley's sermon was a most impressive one and was listened to with rapt attention by the large audience present. At its conclusion solos were sung by women.

Shys He Fired the Big Plant.

Zanesville, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Fraunze U. Jean, a Frenchman, formerly employed by the A. O. Jones Brick and Terra Cotta company, has confessed to setting fire to the plant. A few weeks ago the factory, which was one of the largest of its kind in the country, was destroyed by fire. Investigation was at once commenced with the above results. Revelations of a highly sensational order are expected.

Braun's Slayer Still at Large.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 1.—The trail of the murderer of Peter Braun has been lost. A posse of police searched for him all day Saturday, trailing him from a straw stack southeast of Batavia, where he had the boldness to sleep, to an empty house two miles distant. No further trace could be found of him. The coroner's jury has asked the supervisors to appropriate sufficient money for the prosecution of the search.

Wants Italy's Aid.

London, Nov. 1.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the visit which Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, is about to pay King Humbert, at Monza, northern Italy, is not, as has been asserted, devoid of political significance, but is really a special mission to the Italian government, with a view of getting its consent to the definite and effective annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Cecil Rhodes Has a Relapse.

London, Nov. 1.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Cape Town says that Col. Cecil Rhodes, who has been lying seriously ill at Inyanga, but was reported recovering, had a relapse a few days ago. It is now believed, however, that he will rally again and that he is out of serious danger.

Destructive Fire at Atlanta, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—The Georgia cotton oil mill was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. Everything with the exception of a few smaller buildings was burned to the ground.

UNION PACIFIC SOLD FOR $53,528,522

REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE PAYS A LIBERAL PRICE.

Nearly Nine Million Dollars More Than Was Contemplated When the Cleveland Administration Was Conducting Negotiations—Sale Took Place in Omaha on a Foreclosure.

Omaha, Nov. 1.—[Special].—The Union Pacific railroad was sold to the reorganizing committee for $53,528,522 today. This is nearly nine million dollars more than the Cleveland administration had agreed to accept.

DUG UP SWAG WORTH $4,000

Searchers Tear Up Two Acres of a Dodge County Farm.

Juneau, Wis., Nov. 1.—[Special].—For some time past farmers of the town of Elba, in this county, have been considerably stirred up over the report that thousands of dollars' worth of stolen property had been buried on Frederick Reich's farm in that town, and a number of persons have been working for weeks to unearth the treasure. Messrs. Roby and Schmidt of this city, have put in considerable time in digging for the booty, and farmers for miles around became interested, and lent their aid, until over two acres of land had been dug up. Messrs. Roby and Schmidt were here today, and confirmed the report that the search had been successful. They have dug out boxes containing nineteen gold watches, a number of gold rings and silver ware and several diamond pins and studs which he will turn over to the right ful owners when they prove up their property. The find is worth $4,000 and Roby says the most valuable part is to be recovered. The search will be prosecuted further in the hope of securing the remainder of the booty.

Wisconsin Y. W. C. A. Adjourns.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 1.—The tenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Young Woman's Christian association closed Sunday evening. The session lasted three days, the attendance reaching about 100. Sunday exercises were mostly of a religious nature. There were four meetings, departmental in their scope and largely attended.

WON'T FIGHT IN AFRICA.

French Press Drops Jingo Attitude Against Great Britain.

London, Nov. 1.—The French government is having trouble with the jingoes, and to placate them issued the minatory semi-official note of last Tuesday on west African affairs. That, at least is how the situation is accepted here. Nobody believes that France will be so mad as to force a quarrel on Great Britain.

The French minatory semi-official note provoked a decisive, almost unanimous, reply from the British press: "We have conceded enough to Siam, Madagascar and Tunis for peace and quietness sake, getting precious little in return. We concede no more. Talk over the matter in a friendly spirit, by all means, but drop bluff; it won't pay," they say.

And France is dropping it, for yesterday the Niger boundary commission met in Paris, and the French press, sobered by the unanimous and determined attitude of the British press, repeated Lord Dufferin's historic phrase: "It would be an everlasting disgrace if France and Great Britain should go to war for some African rivulet."

WILL SAIL FOR HAWAII.

Cruiser Baltimore Discharges Japanese Cooks and Servants.

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—The cruiser Baltimore is expected to sail for Honolulu to-morrow. Supplies were taken on to-day and a number of the crew who had deserted returned to the vessel and were placed on a bread and water diet. Their places had been filled by men from the navy yard, but these men were subsequently sent aboard the Oregon.

In accordance with an order from Washington some twenty Japanese cooks and servants were discharged and Chinese taken in their places. This was done as a precautionary measure in case of possible trouble with the Japanese in Hawaii.

When the Baltimore arrives in Honolulu Admiral Miller will make her the flagship of the Pacific squadron. The Yorktown and Wheeling will then return to this coast.

Scores the United States.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 1.—Sir Charles Tupper, leader of the opposition in the provincial parliament, addressed a very large meeting here last night. Referring to the sealing question, he said a greater indignity had never been perpetrated than the seizure of Canadian sealers by the United States, and it was only through the fact of kinship that Great Britain had dealt so leniently with the United States in the matter. Canada was working urgently to prevent the United States from stopping pelagic sealing, which would give Americans a monopoly of the seal business, and the opposition would support them as long as they maintained a firm stand.

"AND THE GREATEST OF THESE IS LOVE"

REV. R. C. DENISON TALKS ON THIS THEME.

He Points Out That Christian Love is Not Weakness and Not Passion—Rev. W. A. Hall's Discourse on Man's Conception of the Almighty.

Rev. R. C. Denison, pastor of the Congregational church spoke yesterday morning on the essential quality, taking as his text, "And the Greatest of These is Love." He said in part:

It is my hope this morning that we may take this quality which Jesus called the greatest essential, and which following him Paul had also declared to be the great and necessary thing in Christian character, and see, if we can, how great a power it is and how men may reach out and have that power if they will. What is Christian love?

In the first place it is not weakness. Neither is Christian love passion.

When we see a man trying to get hold of something he wants, we say he loves the thing which he desires. But that is not Christian love.

Christian love as Christ spoke of it and as Paul wrote of it is this—the desire that all we think, say and do shall be a benefit to the persons we deal with. That is surely a plain principle and one easy to be used in daily life. There is no weakness in that. Love desires to do what will bless men and will do nothing else. Christ refused to be the king the Jews wanted, and forever that picture of the Christ dying for men because he wanted them to have the very best heaven could give is a convincing protest against the idea that love is weak.

Christian love is not the passion to get something for ourselves. This then is the principle; that love is the desire to give real benefit and blessing to others, and in many ways in practical life we can carry out this plan in our charities, treatment of those who have injured us and also in our business life.

A man or a woman may have all other good qualities but they are not Christians unless the thing that characterizes them is that quality of the heart that warmly desires always to be a benefit to all. For while other qualities are desirable the greatest of these is love. Love does not delay. It quickly grasps the opportunities to do good. Love is not selfish. The man who loves only himself shakes off the channels by which happiness may come to him.

Many things were within the reach of life. We can get knowledge, and we can get money; we can get skill, we can get hope. These are all worth the getting; and we can get love, the spirit of wishing and seeking the good of all others whom we may meet. For God is love, which simply means that he desires and seeks the good of his children.

In the evening Mr. Kowalski conducted a praise service by the choir, the pastor speaking for a few minutes on the things that an hour of inspiration may do for us. The following program was well rendered: Chorus, Te Deum in F, Kotschmar; Hymn 96; the Twenty-third Psalm repeated in concert; chorus, No Shadows Yonder, Gaul; Hymn 734; solo, An Unseen Kingdom, Gerald Lane, by Mrs. S. B. Lewis; chorus, Cantate Domino, Buck; chorus, O Lord How Manifold, Barnaby; chorus, Gloria, Mozart; Hymn 1022.

DR. ANDERSON WITH FRIENDS Distinguished Chicago Divine Fills His Old Janesville Pulpit.

Rev. Dr. Galusha Anderson, of Chicago, occupied his old pulpit, in the Baptist church, yesterday morning and evening. His text for the morning was in 1st Cor. 13-13.

This is the climax of Paul's great eulogy of love. It is an intensely practical subject. At the time of his writing this chapter there were divisions or schisms among the Christians. He preaches the gospel of love to them, and it heals their divisions. They are united and work together harmoniously. All literature that tells of God and men, or divinity of human nature, lives. Men will not let it die. Homer, Shakespeare, Baxter and others tell us about God and man, and they live. So with the Bible. It tells us about God and man, with all of his faults, and it lives. Let us look at the text, "Now." How much that covers. It is the beginning and continuance of a new dispensation. "Abides," all these things which have transpired in the dealings of God, with man, have had their day, and yet their results abide. Faith and hope are great, but the greatest of all is love. Why is love the greatest?

First, because love determines just what we are in character? We may trust in and we may have great hopes for the future and yet not show just what we are. Show me what a man loves and I will show you just what he is. If he loves God above everything else it shows that he is a Christian.

Second, love is a giving grace. Faith and hope are receiving graces. Love gives without hoping for reward.

Third, it is the grace that God exercises.

He does not need to exercise faith. He does not need any expectation of future blessings. He has all things and will have all things forever, but he loves for his own sake. Now let us see if our lives are Godlike. Do we love our fellow men? If we hate them we are like the devil; he hated from the beginning. Do you want to be like God? You can be so by loving men and God. Do you want to show a good character? Love Christ and you will show a Christlike character. Friend, do you love the Lord Jesus Christ?

In the evening Dr. Anderson took for his text John 20:25. It was the evening of the resurrection day. The disciples were gathered together to talk over the matter of Christ's resurrection. Christ appears and gives his blessing. There are many who miss the blessing, because they do not meet with the brethren in the prayer meeting. Thomas was evidently a man of thought. He was over cautious. He was incredulous. Sixteen people had told him that they had seen Jesus, and he would not believe it. Thomas was hard to convince but when he was won, you had the whole man.

Notice how the other disciples treat Thomas. They went and told him that they had seen the Lord, but he would not believe until he had touched the Lord. Notice the distress of the heart of Thomas. Sin and suffering are connected. Unbelief brought a week's sorrow to Thomas. Notice how Jesus swept away the doubts of Thomas. He asked him to do just what Thomas said that he must do be-with only one sense, that of touch, says to the bird who talks of sight and flight there is no such thing as sight, and no such means of locomotion as flight. Why? Because of the limitations that environ the worm. Human reasoning is frequently of the same order because of human limitations. The man who tries to satisfy his mind and heart by depriving God of the supernatural, is drifting rapidly toward the night of atheism.

If our God is no larger than ourselves, we have a wrong and a very small conception of the great God. The water that tumbles over the rapids of the swift running river, the gold that for centuries was neglected in the crevice beneath the surface are physical powers that for centuries are neglected because the limited knowledge of the savage did not approximate them.

The sermon was strong containing many gems of thought forcibly expressed.

SWEET KILLED BY TRAMPS

CASHMERE HOUSE GOWN FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

The satin-finish cashmères are extremely fashionable this season, and are made up in most graceful costumes. Velvet ribbon is often used for trimming, and is most effective against the light grays, reseed greens and new shades of blue.

A gown that meets with general favor, and is peculiarly suitable for home wear, is the model shown in our fashion cut, which has the waist made with a small, perfect fitting yoke of black velvet. Directions for cutting the skirt, waist, and sleeves are given in the tissue paper patterns sold by Harper's Bazar where this costume appears. The blouse front, which hangs over the belt, is trimmed with cross bands of black velvet ribbon, while the sleeves, which are tight fitting, have ruffles at the top and a flaring point at the wrist. On the skirt is the same arrangement of black velvet ribbon, forming a regular design. The skirt is cut to train slightly, and is larger on the hips and in front than a walking skirt is now made. This gown can be made in other materials, such as silk, poplin, or bengaline, but looks best in cashmere, and if an inexpensive quality of silk is used the costume will come within the means of most women and still be a gown in the very latest mode.

fore he would believe. "Reach hither thy hand." It is enough, Thomas cries out, "My Lord and my God." See how we ought to deal with an honest doubter. He treated them kindly and tenderly. Again see that man is responsible for his belief. "Blessed are they who believe without seeing." It makes a great difference we believe. A man may believe that he is drinking water when he is taking poison. Yes, it makes a great difference what we believe, however sincere we may be.

See the testimony to the divinity of Christ. Thomas worshiped him and Jesus received it. The angels worshiped him at his birth. Let all who love him worship him and exclaim with Thomas "My Lord and My God." "The Y. P. S. C. E. was led by Mr. Clare Beers, the subject being "Trusting Christ, for What."

THE ALMIGHTINESS OF GOD.

Rev. W. A. Hall Warns His Hearers Against Their Own Limitations.

The topic discussed at Court Street M. E. church yesterday morning by pastor, Rev. Mr. Hall was "The Almighty of God" based on words of the psalmist, David. The speaker believed that the most degraded of human beings possessed in a degree God's likeness. The puzzle in the street reflects the star but it is not the star. The man who in all justice believes in a God of justice. The man who is all mercy believes in a God of mercy. Many things that seem impossible to men are possible to God. We are apt to place limitations on the Almighty. The worm of this city was murdered by hoboes in the northern part of the state. His murderers have so far eluded capture. Besides a wife the murdered man leaves a daughter both of whom live in Minneapolis. Several years ago Sweet came to this city and attended Sibley's college and after several months of study he left for Minneapolis, saying that he intended to become a railroad man.

Three years ago when he visited this city he had a good position on the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie railroad. Since his last visit to this city he has been promoted to be freight conductor and was clearing tramps off a train when killed.

TWILIGHT CLUB AND CUBA

Annexation to Be Discussed at the Meeting Next Week.

Stanley B. Smith will lead the Twilight club at the next meeting Tuesday, Nov. 9 and the subject will be "Jefferson and Territorial Acquisition." He has so subdivided his topic as to bring in the current questions of Hawaiian and Cuban annexation, which relate closely to issues raised in Jefferson's day. His sub-topics will be:

1. The Louisiana Purchase.
2. Subsequent Acquisitions.
3. The Annexation of Cuba and Hawaii.

HALLOWE'EN NIGHT WAS DULY HONORED

THE JANESVILLE YOUNGSTERS MADE NIGHT HIDEOUS.

Boys and Girls Observed All the Ancient Scotch Superstitions and Did the Usual Amount of Damage—Police Were Kept Busy—No Arrests Made.

Halloween was celebrated in Janesville this year in right royal style. The fact that All Saints day fell on Sunday made no difference. The celebration was merely set one day ahead. Judging from crowds that roamed through the city Saturday night there must have been an agreement as to date.

About the time the man with the gasoline torch made his rounds to touch up the street lamps the performance began.

Gates were wrenched from their hinges, windows pelted with beans and sidewalks destroyed.

The Second and Third wards fared the worst, but in all the wards it was the same old story. Sidewalks and fences were demolished and scattered along the streets for blocks. Front porches which had been carefully swept for Sunday, held enough vegetables for a good sized truck garden. Door knobs were jerked out of place, while electric buttons were pushed in and wedged with shingle nails.irate householders rushed to front doors only to be greeted by yells that invariably came from a safe distance.

The police were kept busy moving from one end of the town to the other. No arrests were made but the officers were obliged to use their canes in restoring order.

CITY PAID TRIBUTE TO HENRY GEORGE

IMPRESSIVE SCENES AT THE FUNERAL SUNDAY.

Thousands at His Bier—Men of All Shades of Religious and Public Belief Follow the Leader to His Grave—Wonderful Demonstrations of Sorrow.

New York, Nov. 1.—The memory of Henry George was honored Sunday by the entire city and the neighboring boroughs. From sunrise until midnight countless thousands of men, women and children showed their reverence for the dead leader in a manner befitting his life. His funeral will go down to history as a public demonstration unique in the annals of New York and America.

Over the bier of the man who had struggled for the uplifting of the poor during his life, and who died at the head of his forces of political independence and municipal honesty, fell the tears of fully 50,000 citizens. Outside in the streets, unable to gain admittance to the Grand Central Palace, where the body lay in state, were 50,000 more, impatient in their sorrow. And then came the procession to Brooklyn, the like of which has never before been seen, even in cosmopolitan New York.

Creed played no part in the funeral nor did race or politics. A clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal church, a Roman Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi joined their eloquence in the common tribute of the people. Men high in political and in social life, who disagreed with Henry George's philosophy, but who realized and honored his manhood, were there. Workingmen, the majority in their Sunday attire, some in overalls and jumpers, were there. The negro rubbed elbows with his white brother and was welcome. Men and women prominent in the world of letters mingled with the humble disciple of the leader gone before.

In all that vast throng but one thought was uppermost, but one sentiment found utterance. The world had lost a man whose only thought was for the welfare of his fellow men.

The body was removed from the Union Square hotel before the sun had risen. At that early hour the streets were almost deserted, and the cordon of policemen stationed along the route were the only spectators to this first step in the procession to the tomb.

At the Grand Central Palace a crowd had already collected, and hats were reverently removed as the casket was carried up the steps, thence to the large hall on the second floor.

Everything was exceedingly plain. The casket was placed at the head of the main aisle, directly in front of the speaker's stand. American flags were festooned about a draped portrait of Henry George, and the rostrum was a mass of flowers.

At 7 o'clock the main doors were opened. There was no confusion. The police arrangements were perfect. Vast crowds surged through the hall, paused at the bier and passed out again. The upper portion of the casket was open, and through the glass covering could be seen the face of the man who loved and was beloved by many thousands.

It was not until the impassioned eloquence of Dr. McGlynn had touched a responsive chord in the hearts of that great assemblage of mourners that the sorrow of silence gave way to triumphant applause. The reaction had set in. Nerves strung to a high tension succumbed, and then a strange thing happened—a thing not to be wondered at in continental Europe, but foreign to all precedents in America.

During the orations of Dr. McGlynn and Mr. Crosby one might have thought that the spirit of Henry George had forsaken its habitation only to seek fresh existence in the breasts of the multitude. It was as though Henry George, lying calm in the restfulness of death, still spoke to his followers through the medium of other lips. At every mention of his name, after the first spontaneous burst of applause, the dome of that great auditorium fairly trembled with the outpouring of an enthusiasm which seemed accentuated rather than subdued by the presence of death.

When Mr. Crosby paused, irresolute, and exclaimed, "I can say no more," from every part of the hall came shouts of "Go on! Go on!" and when, in a final burst of magnetic ardor, he cried: "There lie the remains of Thomas Jefferson reincarnate!" it was several moments before he was suffered to proceed.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies another opportunity was given those in the hall to view the remains. Then the crowd, once more subdued, filed slowly out into the streets.

At 7 o'clock the casket was carried out into Lexington avenue and placed upon a catafalque, drawn by sixteen horses. Many labor organizations and single-tax societies had massed their numbers in the side streets and joined the procession, which wended its way slowly down to the bridge and over to Brooklyn.

All along the line of march the prevailing sentiment was one of sorrow and respect. Even the policemen removed their helmets as the cortege passed. The streets were black with people, and here again all classes of society were represented.

Upon the arrival of the cortege at the city hall, in Brooklyn, the casket was transferred to the hearse and removed to the George homestead, at Ft. Hamilton. Interment will be made today.

INDIANA TOWN BURNED OUT.

Halloween Franks Start a Fire Which Costs Fort Branch $30,000.

Princeton, Ind., Nov. 1.—Boys celebrating Halloween are responsible for the destruction by fire of almost the entire business portion of the town of Fort Branch, this county, Saturday night. A lighted cigarette thrown among some rubbish in the rear of Silas Gillespie's implement store started the fire. The loss is $30,000. Before the sleeping inhabitants awoke to fight the flames several buildings were on fire. The little bucket brigades could not reach the buildings, owing to the intense heat, and the scarcity of water rendered their efforts futile.

While the fire was at its height 30 pounds of dynamite in Walters' hardware store exploded. People in the street were thrown to the ground by the concussion. Red-hot iron window weights tore great holes in roofs of houses in the vicinity. The town was panic-stricken. The fire continued until daylight. The town records were destroyed.

SPAIN HAS TO YIELD.

Accedes to American Demand in Competitor Case.

Madrid, Nov. 1.—The competitor case was taken up Sunday by Foreign Minister Gullon, Colonial Minister Moret, and Naval Minister Bermejo, to whom the matter had been referred by the Cabinet.

The communication from the United States government touching the affair was carefully examined, together with the Spanish evidence that the competitor was a filibuster. After mature consideration the Ministers named reached the conclusion, in view of the precedents established in the case by the Duke of Tetuan while he was Foreign Minister, and by the Conservative Cabinet of Senor Canovas and General Azcarraga, that Spain must satisfy the demands of the American State department.

Farms for Old Soldiers.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 1.—Gen. A. S. Wiesert of Milwaukee, Wis., and Gen. Paul Vandervoort of Omaha, Neb., each an ex-grand commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Gen. R. N. Adams of Minneapolis, have just secured 22,000 acres of land in the coast region of Texas. This purchase is made for locating thereupon veterans of the late war, 800 families of whom are said to be en route for settlement on the lands. The location selected is in Matagorda county.

War in India Near the End.

Simla, Nov. 1.—According to a dispatch from Karappa the expected advance to Arhang Pass was made Sunday morning. Gen. Westmacott seized the villages covering the line of advance and the artillery, brought into action at half-past 8 o'clock, soon expelled the tribesmen from the Sangars. Only slight opposition was encountered. The crest was reached and the pass captured by Gen. Westmacott at half-past 10. The British sustained only a trifling loss.

Still After the Lynchers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—It is authoritatively announced that Gov. Mount and Attorney-General Ketcham have not abandoned hope of securing the indictment and punishment of the men who lynched the five thieves at Versailles six weeks ago. Forces are now at work that will, it is believed, accomplish something. It is stated that the state does not intend to move with undue haste, and no arrests are looked for before Dec. 1.

Hero of the Civil War Dead.

Wickford, R. I., Nov. 1.—William J. Babcock, a veteran of the civil war, is dead at Wakefield, South Kingston, aged 56 years. He was color sergeant of the Second Rhode Island volunteers at the storming of Petersburg in April, 1865, and was the first man to place the stars and stripes over the captured confederate breastworks. For his gallantry on this occasion congress gave him a medal.

Drought in Illinois Broken.

Carlyle, Ind., Nov. 1.—The first heavy rainfall since July 3 visited this section Sunday night. Many lakes and creeks have entirely dried up. In many cases the water has been hauled for ten miles. Wheat has been sown for over thirty days, but has remained in a dormant condition owing to the unprecedented drought.

Germany Supports the Sultan.

Constantinople, Nov. 1.—The Ottoman government has notified the powers that it objects to the appointment of Colonel Schaeffer, an officer in the army of Luxemburg, as provisional commissioner of the powers for the island of Crete. The German government supports the objections of Turkey.

Prof. W. D. Saunders Dead.

Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 1.—Professor W. D. Saunders died last night at his home in this city. He was one of the noted men of the west, formerly of the Young Ladies' Athenaeum and Illinois Conservatory of Music of this place, and was for many years professor of rhetoric in Illinois College. He was in early days an ardent abolitionist, and did grand work as an orator and friend of the union during the war.

CHAS. B. FARWELL ADVISES ON BONDS

SAYS HE IS IN FAVOR OF A BANK NOTE CURRENCY.

Talks of National Banks—Former United States Senator From Illinois Gives the Monetary Commissioners His Views as to the Proper Financial Policy.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Many prominent business men, as well as bank presidents and those more directly concerned with financial operations, are sending their views to the monetary commission in response to the series of interrogatories the commission has sent out. While there is a great variety of opinion expressed, members of the commission declare that they are finding these expressions of great interest—in the first place as affording a photograph of educated financial opinion in the country, and in the second place as affording many particular suggestions which might escape attention if opinions were not sought from many sources. Western business men, as well as those of the East, are expressing their views freely to the commissioners, and have in most cases shown their willingness, in response to inquiry, to have them made public.

Among the important communications received from Chicago recently was one from Charles B. Farwell, who served in the senate for four years as the successor of Gen. Logan. Mr. Farwell expresses the opinion that silver and silver certificates should be redeemed in gold, because the government has issued both. "One is a promise to pay on paper," he declares, "and the other is a promise to pay on silver." Mr. Farwell believes that if the silver certificates were redeemed in gold all would be presented within a very short time, and probably 50 per cent of the silver dollars.

He says, in regard to facilitating the use of silver currency, that he does not believe in forcing circulation of either gold or silver, but should leave it to the demands of the people. He sees no objections to having the national banks issue circulating notes of a denomination less than $5.

Senator Farwell is a believer in replacing the existing government currency with a bank-note currency, but does not believe in issuing notes without specific security. He thinks it possible to rely upon national government bonds, so far as they will go, and whenever it is demonstrated that there is a lack of currency and that United States bonds have all been put up as collateral for national bank notes, then he would authorize the use of other bonds as security for any additional amount which commerce might require. He believes that a committee, consisting of the secretary of the treasury, the treasurer of the United States and the comptroller of the currency can be safely trusted to take these securities at a price to amply secure any additional bank notes which the country might need.

Senator Farwell declares flatly that he "would not permit any bank to issue notes without putting up the necessary collateral security. He thinks $50,000 should be the minimum limit of capital for national banks and that national banks should not be permitted to establish branches. He favors more serious changes in regard to the government paper notes than the existing national bank notes.

Strawboard Trust Controls.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 1.—A strawboard trust, controlling every plant in the United States, was effected last week. For three years efforts have been made to bring every strawboard plant into a combination, and by those efforts the American Strawboard company, controlling nineteen plants, was organized and established offices in New York city, with C. W. Bell of Cincinnati in charge. Twelve companies, however, remained out. They were all brought into line during the last week, and at a quiet session the trust was organized.

Dubuque's Bones Buried.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 1.—Julien Dubuque's bones, found with those of two Indian chiefs a few days ago by the builders of a monument upon his grave, were Sunday deposited in a sarcophagus within the monument. The exercises were under the auspices of the Early Settlers' association and were attended by 2,000 persons. J. H. Shields delivered the oration.

Whitway May Be Defeated.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 1.—The general election returns continue favorable to the opposition. Trinity district has furnished the greatest surprise of the campaign. With 1,500 votes already counted out of a probable ballot of 8,000, the Premier, Sir William Whitway, is 350 behind the opposition candidates. His defeat and that of his colleagues are therefore probable.

Retain Pork Duties.

Paris, Oct. 30.—The customs committee of the chamber of deputies has decided to recommend that the government maintain the previously adopted duties on pork products, including lard, with the exception of reducing the duty on salt pork, hams and bacon from 30 to 25 francs.

Miss Ina Bates leaves for Des Moines, Ia., this winter, where she has accepted a position as stenographer.

BLANCO IN COMMAND OF SPANISH ARMY

GEN WEYLER YIELDS UP HIS AUTHORITY IN CUBA.

Cheer the New Governor—People of Havana Give a Cordial Greeting to the Representatives of Spain—Immense Crowd Witnesses the Departure of Weyler.

Havana, Nov. 1.—The Spanish cruiser, Alfonso XIII., with Marshal Blanco, the new governor-general of Cuba, on board, was sighted Sunday morning at 5.30. At 7 o'clock the Alfonso XIII. entered the harbor, and Lieut.-Gen. Weyler, the Marquis Ahumada, Admiral Navarro and other high military and naval officers went to the special steamer to meet Gen. Blanco.

After a long and cordial conference, Lieut.-Gen. Weyler yielded up his command to his successor. At 10.30 Marshal Blanco landed. According to the official account he was "enthusiastically greeted" by the populace, who shouted: "Long live Blanco!"

Lieut.-Gen. Weyler and Marshal Blanco exchanged farewells on board the Alfonso XIII., and the steamer Montserrat sailed at 1 o'clock p. m. She was escorted outside the harbor by numerous tug boats with the friends of the departing general and the officers of his staff. An immense crowd witnessed the departure from the wharves. According to the official account the people cheered for "Weyler, the pacificator." Gen. Weyler's escort on the Montserrat consists of 600 sick soldiers.

MISS WILLARD'S POSITION.

Explicit Statement in regard to the Temple at Chicago.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Asked by an Associated Press representative for a more explicit definition of her position on the Chicago Temple matter and the Lady Somerset controversy than appeared from her remarks following the delivery of her annual address, Miss Frances E. Willard said:

"I do not propose to see the temple enterprise abandoned. I believe my regained health should be used in efforts to raise the money to pay interest on the bonds that has always been kept up until this year and to secure funds whereby the $300,000 worth of temple trust bonds can be retired. While it is true they had no legal responsibility whatever, the bonds having been put forth by Mrs. Carse, the white-ribbon women have a moral responsibility and I propose to do my utmost to see those bonds paid in full. One hundred thousand dollars has already been secured of the $300,000 necessary, and I believe the good people of this country will respond to my call. I do not propose to lay this burden upon the local unions, but to make an appeal to the Christian and philanthropic public."

Miss Willard added that she did not propose that the W. C. T. U. should absolutely own The Temple, but that $300,000 be held by that body so that they should hold a controlling interest in the enterprise.

In reply to a question as to the election of Lady Henry Somerset during the world's convention Miss Willard stated that Lady Henry Somerset's selection was made by the executive committee of the world's W. C. T. U., which elected all the other officers and which was the executive branch of the society. Nothing unusual was done, the society being constituted on the same basis as the National Women's council, that being to represent different countries equally and not to allow the country in which the convention happens to be held to hold the balance of power.

PRESIDENT AT CINCINNATI.

Greeted With Cheers and a Salute of Twenty-One Guns.

Cincinnati, Nov. 1.—President McKinley and party arrived at 10.45 on Saturday, debarking at Torrence Road, two miles from the terminal depot. A great crowd had gathered at the little station, which is merely a crossing where Torrence Road begins the ascent of the hill bordering the Ohio river. A salute of twenty-one guns were fired, while cheers from the multitude mingled with the echoes of cannon.

The president was gracious in his recognition of the honor shown him as he appeared on the platform with Chairman F. D. Schmiedlappe of the reception committee. He bowed repeatedly as again and again the cordial greetings were conveyed to him. The party immediately took carriages for Mr. Schmiedlappe's home, where the president and party were entertained.

Five Dangerously Hurt.

Mount Pleasant, Pa., Nov. 1.—During a hay ride last night a wagon containing thirteen couples was upset and all were more or less injured. Five persons were dangerously hurt. Their names are:

Nettie Adams, skull fractured; reported to be dying.

May Simpson, hurled against the curbstone and rendered unconscious for several hours; may not recover.

William McNaughton.

Edward Sheppard.

Washington Bell, colored, driver; leg broken and otherwise injured.

Fire at Warren, Mass.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 1.—Fire in the business section of Warren early Sunday morning caused $75,000 damage. The town hall was partially burned and several blocks destroyed.

AUSTRIA IMPORTING WHEAT.

United States Called Upon to Supply a Big Shortage.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture has just issued a report prepared under his direction by Frank H. Hitchcock, chief of the section of foreign markets, that gives some interesting facts relative to the present wheat shortage in Austria-Hungary and the consequent importation into that country of American grain.

According to the United States consul at Reichenberg, Austria, an importation of 400 carloads of American wheat was made as early as August, coming by the way of Hamburg. Other importations were reported, among them one of 36,700 bushels of red winter No. 2 and Kansas wheat, purchased through the Vienna Produce exchange.

After recounting these unusual importations of the present season, the bulletin presents a careful review of the grain situation in Austria-Hungary during the past ten years. The crops of the present season are remarkably small.

If the official estimates are fulfilled the combined wheat production of Austria and Hungary will amount to little more than 120,000,000 bushels, or 60,000,000 bushels short of the crop harvested in 1896 which was estimated at about 190,000,000 bushels.

YELLOW FEVER FALLING OFF.

Cooler Weather Works Good Results in the Plague Region.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 1.—Special reports from the fever-infected points show a material falling off in the number of new cases. New Orleans heads the list with thirty-five cases and five deaths. No deaths are reported except in this city. The decrease is due to a material fall in the temperature. For the first time this season all of the local theaters are open.

The state has gone to the limit of its financial aid, and the city council has declared that it can give no more money to stamp out the fever. The amount on hand will run the authorities not beyond Nov. 10, and it is all but certain that frost will not visit New Orleans by that time. There is talk of a popular subscription to meet the difficulty, $25,000 being necessary to continue the work of isolation until the cold weather.

Ask for Postponement.

London, Nov. 1.—The firm of Coates, Son & Co., who recently undertook the formation of a syndicate for the purchase of the Union Pacific railway line and who have offered to pay in full for the government claims on the main line and the Kansas division if the government will secure a postponement of both sales to Dec. 15 next, yesterday sent a cable message to President McKinley suggesting that the United States government should secure the postponement of the sale until that date.

Mrs. Townsley's Great Sermon.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Music Hall was crowded to its utmost capacity Sunday afternoon when Rev. Frances E. Town of Michigan delivered the annual sermon to the delegates to the national convention of the W. C. T. U. The meeting opened with scripture reading by Miss Mary E. Blood of Illinois and prayer by John Woolley of Illinois. Mrs. Townsley's sermon was a most impressive one and was listened to with rapt attention by the large audience present. At its conclusion solos were sung by women.

Says He Fired the Big Plant.

Zanesville, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Fraunze U. Jean, a Frenchman, formerly employed by the A. O. Jones Brick and Terra Cotta company, has confessed to setting fire to the plant. A few weeks ago the factory, which was one of the largest of its kind in the country, was destroyed by fire. Investigation was at once commenced with the above results. Revelations of a highly sensational order are expected.

Braun's Slaying Still at Large.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 1.—The trail of the murderer of Peter Braun has been lost. A posse of police searched for him all day Saturday, trailing him from a straw stack southeast of Batavia, where he had the boldness to sleep, to an empty house two miles distant. No further trace could be found of him. The coroner's jury has asked the supervisors to appropriate sufficient money for the prosecution of the search.

Wants Italy's Aid.

London, Nov. 1.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Mail says that the visit which Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, is about to pay King Humbert, at Monza, northern Italy, is not, as has been asserted, devoid of political significance, but is really a special mission to the Italian government, with a view of getting its consent to the definite and effective annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Cecil Rhodes Has a Relapse.

London, Nov. 1.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Cape Town says that Col. Cecil Rhodes, who has been lying seriously ill at Inyanga, but was reported recovering, had a relapse a few days ago. It is now believed, however, that he will rally again and that he is out of serious danger.

Destructive Fire at Atlanta, Ga.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—The Georgia cotton oil mill was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. Everything with the exception of a few smaller buildings was burned to the ground.

UNION PACIFIC SOLD FOR $53,528,522

REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE
PAYS A LIBERAL PRICE.

Nearly Nine Million Dollars More Than Was Contemplated When the Cleveland Administration Was Conducting Negotiations—Sale Took Place in Omaha on a Foreclosure.

Omaha, Nov. 1.—[Special]—The Union Pacific railroad was sold to the reorganizing committee for $53,528,522 today. This is nearly nine million dollars more than the Cleveland administration had agreed to accept.

DUG UP SWAG WORTH $4,000

Searchers Tear Up Two Acres of a Dodge County Farm.

Janeau, Wis., Nov. 1.—[Special]—For some time past farmers of the town of Eiba, in this county, have been considerably stirred up over the report that thousands of dollars' worth of stolen property had been buried on Frederick Reich's farm in that town, and a number of persons have been working for weeks to unearth the treasure. Messrs. Roby and Schmidt of this city, have put in considerable time in digging for the booty, and farmers for miles around became interested, and lent their aid, until over two acres of land had been dug up.

Messrs. Roby and Schmidt were here today, and confirmed the report that the search had been successful. They have dug out boxes containing nineteen gold watches, a number of gold rings and silver ware and several diamond pins and studs which he will turn over to the rightful owners when they prove up their property. The find is worth $4,000 and Roby says the most valuable part is to be recovered. The search will be prosecuted further in the hope of securing the remainder of the booty.

Wisconsin Y. W. C. A. Adjourns.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 1.—The tenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Young Woman's Christian association closed Sunday evening. The session lasted three days, the attendance reaching about 100. Sunday exercises were mostly of a religious nature. There were four meetings, departmental in their scope and largely attended.

WON'T FIGHT IN AFRICA.

French Press Drops Jingo Attitude Against Great Britain.

London, Nov. 1.—The French government is having trouble with the jingoes, and to placate them issued the minatory semi-official note of last Tuesday on west African affairs. That, at least is how the situation is accepted here. Nobody believes that France will be so mad as to force a quarrel on Great Britain.

The French minatory semi-official note provoked a decisive, almost unanimous, reply from the British press: "We have conceded enough to Siam, Madagascar and Tunis for peace and quietness sake, getting precious little in return. We concede no more. Talk over the matter in a friendly spirit, by all means, but drop bluff; it won't pay," they say.

And France is dropping it, for yesterday the Niger boundary commission met in Paris, and the French press, sobered by the unanimous and determined attitude of the British press, repeated Lord Dufferin's historic phrase: "It would be an everlasting disgrace if France and Great Britain should go to war for some African rivulet."

WILL SAIL FOR HAWAII.

Cruiser Baltimore Discharges Japanese Cooks and Servants.

San Francisco, Nov. 1.—The cruiser Baltimore is expected to sail for Honolulu to-morrow. Supplies were taken on to-day and a number of the crew who had deserted returned to the vessel and were placed on a bread and water diet. Their places had been filled by men from the navy yard, but these men were subsequently sent aboard the Oregon.

In accordance with an order from Washington some twenty Japanese cooks and servants were discharged and Chinese taken in their places. This was done as a precautionary measure in case of possible trouble with the Japanese in Hawaii.

When the Baltimore arrives in Honolulu Admiral Miller will make her the flagship of the Pacific squadron. The Yorktown and Wheeling will then return to this coast.

Scores the United States.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 1.—Sir Charles Tupper, leader of the opposition in the provincial parliament, addressed a very large meeting here last night. Referring to the sealing question, he said a greater indignity had never been perpetrated than the seizure of Canadian sealers by the United States, and it was only through the fact of kinship that Great Britain had dealt so leniently with the United States in the matter. Canada was working urgently to prevent the United States from stopping pelagic sealing, which would give Americans a monopoly of the seal business, and the opposition would support them as long as they maintained a firm stand.

"AND THE GREATEST OF THESE IS LOVE"

REV. R. C. DENISON TALKS ON THIS THEME.

He Points Out That Christian Love is Not Weakness and Not Passion—Rev. W. A. Hall's Discourse on Man's Conception of the Almighty.

Rev. R. C. Denison, pastor of the Congregational church, spoke yesterday morning on the essential quality, taking as his text, "And the Greatest of These is Love." He said in part:

It is my hope this morning that we may take this quality which Jesus called the greatest essential, and which following him Paul had also declared to be the great and necessary thing in Christian character, and see, if we can, how great a power it is and how men may reach out and have that power if they will. What is Christian love?

In the first place it is not weakness. Neither is Christian love passion.

When we see a man trying to get hold of something he wants, we say he loves the thing which he desires. But that is not Christian love.

Christian love as Christ spoke of it and as Paul wrote of it is this—the desire that all we think, say and do shall be a benefit to the persons we deal with. That is surely a plain principle and one easy to be used in daily life. There is no weakness in that. Love desires to do what will bless men and will do nothing else. Christ refused to be the king the Jews wanted, and forever that picture of the Christ dying for men because he wanted them to have the very best heaven could give is a convincing protest against the idea that love is weak.

Christian love is not the passion to get something for ourselves. This then is the principle; that love is the desire to give real benefit and blessing to others, and in many ways in practical life can we carry out this plan in our charities, treatment of those who have injured us and also in our business life.

A man or a woman may have all other good qualities but they are not Christians unless the thing that characterizes them is that quality of the heart that warmly desires always to be a benefit to all. For while other qualities are desirable the greatest of these is love. Love does not delay. It quickly grasps the opportunities to do good. Love is not selfish. The man who loves only himself shakes off the channels by which happiness may come to him.

Many things were within the reach of life. We can get knowledge, and we can get money; we can get skill, we can get hope. These are all worth the getting; and we can get love, the spirit of wishing and seeking the good of all others whom we may meet. For God is love, which simply means that he desires and seeks the good of his children.

In the evening Mr. Kowalski conducted a praise service by the choir, the pastor speaking for a few minutes on the things that an hour of inspiration may do for us. The following program was well rendered: Chorus, "Te Deum in E," Kotschmar; Hymn 96; the Twenty-third Psalm repeated in concert; chorus, "No Shadows Yonder, Gail; Hymn 734; solo, "An Unseen Kingdom," Gerald Lane, by Mrs. S. B. Lewis; chorus, "Cantate Domino, Buck; chorus, "O Lord How Manifold, Barnaby; chorus, Gloria, Mozart; Hymn 1022.

DR. ANDERSON WITH FRIENDS Distinguished Chicago Divine Fills His Old Janesville Pulpit.

Rev. Dr. Galusba Anderson, of Chicago, occupied his old pulpit, in the Baptist church, yesterday morning and evening. His text for the morning was in 1st Cor. 13-13.

This is the climax of Paul's great eulogy of love. It is an intensely practical subject. At the time of his writing this chapter there were divisions or schisms among the Christians. He preaches the gospel of love to them, and it heals their divisions. They are united and work together harmoniously. All literature that tells of God and men, or divinity of human nature, lives. Men will not let it die. Homer, Shakespeare, Barter and others tell us about God and man, and they live. So with the Bible. It tells us about God and man, with all of his faults, and it lives. Let us look at the text, "Now." How much that covers. It is the beginning and continuance of a new dispensation. "Abides," all these things which have transpired in the dealings of God, with man, have had their day, and yet their results abide. Faith and hope are great, but the greatest of all is love. Why is love the greatest?

First, because love determines just what we are in character? We may trust in and we may have great hopes for the future and yet not show just what we are. Show me what a man loves and I will show you just what he is. If he loves God above everything else it shows that he is a Christian.

Second, love is a giving grace. Faith and hope are receiving graces. Love gives without hoping for reward.

Third, it is the grace that God exercises.

He does not need to exercise faith. He does not need any expectation of future blessings. He has all things and will have all things forever, but he loves man. He so loved man that He gave Jesus for us. Now let us see if our lives are Godlike. Do we love our fellow men? If we hate them we are like the devil; he hated from the beginning. Do you want to be like God? You can be so by loving men and God. Do you want to show a good character? Love Christ and you will show a Christlike character. Friend, do you love the Lord Jesus Christ?

In the evening Dr. Anderson took for his text John 20:25. It was the evening of the resurrection day. The disciples were gathered together to talk over the matter of Christ's resurrection. Christ appears and gives his blessing. There are many who miss the blessing, because they do not meet with the brethren in the prayer meeting. Thomas was evidently a man of thought. He was over cautious. He was incredulous. Sixteen people had told him that they had seen Jesus, and he would not believe it. Thomas was hard to convince but when he was won, you had the whole man.

Notice how the other disciples treat Thomas. They went and told him that they had seen the Lord, but he would not believe until he had touched the Lord. Notice the distress of the heart of Thomas. Sin and suffering are connected. Unbelief brought a week's sorrow to Thomas. Notice how Jesus swept away the doubts of Thomas. He asked him to do just what Thomas said that he must do be-with only one sense, that of touch, says to the bird who talks of sight and flight there is no such thing as sight, and no such means of locomotion as flight. Why? Because of the limitations that environ the worm. Human reasoning is frequently of the same order because of human limitations. The man who tries to satisfy his mind and heart by depriving God of the supernatural, is drifting rapidly toward the night of atheism.

If our God is no larger than ourselves, we have a wrong and a very small conception of the great God. The water that tumbles over the rapids of the swift running river, the gold that for centuries was neglected in the crevice beneath the surface are physical powers that for centuries are neglected because the limited knowledge of the savage did not approximate them.

The sermon was strong containing many gems of thought forcibly expressed.

CASHMERE HOUSE GOWN FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

The satin-finish cashmères are extremely fashionable this season, and are made up in most graceful costumes. Velvet ribbon is often used for trimming, and is most effective against the light grays, reseda greens and new shades of blue.

A gown that meets with general favor, and is peculiarly suitable for home wear, is the model shown in our fashion cut, which has the waist made with a small, perfect fitting yoke of black velvet. Directions for cutting the skirt, waist, and sleeves are given in the tissue paper patterns sold by Harper's Bazar where this costume appears. The blouse front, which hangs over the belt, is trimmed with cross bands of black velvet ribbon, while the sleeves, which are tight fitting, have ruffles at the top and a flaring point at the wrist. On the skirt is the same arrangement of black velvet ribbon, forming a regular design. The skirt is cut to train slightly, and is larger on the hips and in front than a walking skirt is now made. This gown can be made in other materials, such as silk, poplin, or bengaline, but looks best in cashmere, and if an inexpensive quality of silk is used the costume will come within the means of most women and still be a gown in the very latest mode.

fore he would believe. "Reach hither thy hand." It is enough, Thomas cries out, "My Lord and my God." See how we ought to deal with an honest doubter. He treated them kindly and tenderly. Again see that man is responsible for his belief. "Blessed are they who believe without seeing." It makes a great difference we believe. A man may believe that he is drinking water when he is taking poison. Yes, it makes a great difference what we believe, however sincere we may be.

See the testimony to the divinity of Christ. Thomas worshiped him and Jesus received it. The angels worshiped him at his birth. Let all who love him worship him and exclaim with Thomas "My Lord and my God." "The Y. P. S. C. E. was led by Mr. Clara Beers, the subject being "Trusting Christ, for What."

Miss Cora Anderson sang a beautiful solo at each service, morning and evening.

THE ALMIGHTINESS OF GOD.

Rev. W. A. Hall Warns His Hearers Against Their Own Limitations.

The topic discussed at Court Street M. E. church yesterday morning by pastor, Rev. Mr. Hall was "The Almighty of God" based on words of the psalmist, David. The speaker believed that the most degraded of human beings possessed in a degree God's likeness. The puzzle in the street reflects the star but it is not the star. The man who in all justice believes in a God of justice, the man who in all mercy believes in a God of mercy. Many things that seem impossible to men are possible to God. We are apt to place limitations on the Almighty. The worm of this city was murdered by hoboes in the northern part of the state. His murderers have so far eluded capture. Besides a wife the murdered man leaves a daughter both of whom live in Minneapolis. Several years ago Sweet came to this city and attended Silsbee's college and after several months of study he left for Minneapolis, saying that he intended to become a railroad man.

Three years ago when he visited this city he had a good position on the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie railroad. Since his last visit to this city he has been promoted to be freight conductor and was clearing tramps off a train when killed.

Annexation to Be Discussed at the Meeting Next Week.

Stanley B. Smith will lead the Twilight club at his next meeting Tuesday, Nov. 9 and the subject will be "Jefferson and Territorial Acquisition." He has so subdivided his topic as to bring in the current questions of Hawaiian and Cuban annexation, which relate closely to issues raised in Jefferson's day. His sub-topics will be:

1. The Louisiana Purchase.
2. Subsequent Acquisitions.
3. The Annexation of Cuba and Hawaii.

HALLOWE'EN NIGHT WAS DULY HONORED

THE JANESVILLE YOUNGSTERS MADE NIGHT HIDEOUS.

Boys and Girls Observed All the Ancient Scotch Superstitions and Did the Usual Amount of Damage—Police Were Kept Busy—No Arrests Made.

Halloween was celebrated in Janesville this year in right royal style. The fact that All Saints day fell on Sunday made no difference. The celebration was merely set one day ahead. Judging from crowds that roamed through the city Saturday night there must have been an agreement as to date.

About the time the man with the gasoline torch made his rounds to touch up the street lamps the performance began.

Gates were wrenched from their hinges, windows pelted with beans and sidewalks destroyed.

The Second and Third wards fared the worst, but in all the wards it was the same old story. Sidewalks and fences were demolished and scattered along the streets for blocks. Front porches which had been carefully swept for Sunday, held enough vegetables for a good sized truck garden. Door knobs were jerked out of place, while electric buttons were pushed in and wedged with shingle nails.irate householders rushed to front doors only to be greeted by yells that invariably came from a safe distance.

The police were kept busy moving from one end of the town to the other. No arrests were made but the officers were obliged to use their canes in restoring order.

MISSION SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Harvest Home at the Rock River School—Home Gathering in La Prairie.

The Rock River school held yesterday their usual Harvest Home Festival. The room was fittingly adorned with bright foliage, flowers and grain, but brighter far more the faces of the boys and girls who made so pleasant the hours by verse and song. The superintendent, Mrs. McGee and her faithful teachers deserve much credit for the inspiration they lend and patient work rendered, making it possible for the pupils to give such an exercise. This is one of the few schools away from the city and villages of Rock county that never say die when Rock river freezes up.

The La Prairie school—Mrs. George Sherman, superintendent—will hold their annual home gathering, Thursday evening, November 4. These gatherings for many years have been among the crowning features of the summer's campaign.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlan's the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals. Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart C. Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

WITH THE YARDMASTER.

JANESVILLE can boast of the largest barber shop in the state. Mr. Buck has recently opened up a shop in Bray's two-story brick building on Western avenue. The building is 60x30 feet. There is a barber in Green Bay who has the most novel sign in Brown county. It reads: "Shaving done without pain, or whiskers refunded."

Last Saturday, W. H. Greenman dug up an old sign, that was used by Smith & Clark, the proprietors of the original New York Cash Store. The card was printed, and hung in their window fifty years ago. The idea it gives is about like this:

"Smith & Clark's New York Cash store. Dealers in pigs' feet and sweet cider, horse collars and stick candy, ice cream and tar roofing, millinery and dressed poultry, seamless coffins and scrap iron, rock crushers and New Orleans molasses, diseases of emigrants a specialty." These were days when the price of sugar and calico was astonishing. West Milwaukee street was then a patch of hazel brush and when the old timers wanted to go out to gather hickory nuts they did not need to go further than the Y. M. C. A. building.

Those were sure enough times when the woodman got the axe, and used it. They had to blaze a trail for those who were to follow. Imagine a farmer then, with nothing to cultivate with except a straight handle bull-tongue plow. Often when they reached the farther side of the "land" the tugs would be made up of cotton rope, pieces of chain, hickory withes and some leather. Only an old timer can tell you of the trying hours in new cleared ground. All small grain was out with five fingered cradles and the man who cut the widest swath was put in as road supervisor. There were few schools then, and the little folks had to get their "book learning from McGuffey's reader and the old blue back elementary spelling book. The hours for study was at night perhaps from the light of the fire place.

A farmer told me that the brand of hogs that they raised here in early days were known as the razor backs. They could outrun a horse and drink out of a bottle.

"One spring" he said, "nearly all the hogs in this section died off. We had an awful lot of rain, consequently a lot of mud. The hogs in walking around through the rain struck onto a piece of hard luck. Their tails became so heavily balled up with the mud, that it drew their hides so tight, they could not close their eyes, and they all died for the want of sleep." I tipped my hat to him, and walked away.

FAMILY PRIDE RULES HIM

George Sims Begs in Janesville, But Will Be Rich in 1900.

An Englishman who gave his name as George Sims, worked several charitable Janesville people out of twenty-five cents each on a hard luck story, having interesting features. He declared that his home is in Sheffield, and that his father died sixteen years ago. According to the piteous story, the father left two coal mines, mortgages, notes, bonds and cash to his three sons, but they are not to have possession of the property until 1900. Some provision was made for their support on the estate, but they decided to leave home until they should come into full possession. One is in London, one in Australia and the other is in Janesville. Since leaving home he has been in India, has herded sheep in Australia, and traveled all over the United States supporting himself by his own efforts. For two years he was employed as fireman in a paper mill at Niagara Falls. His relatives have entreated him to come home, and his attorneys have offered to send him passage money, but he refused all offers and says he will not go until he comes into possession of his fortune and not then unless he has earned passage money. In spite of his family pride which refuses to allow him to receive aid from the estate, he took with great willingness a punched quarter offered by Assistant Secretary Atkinson of the Y. M. C. A.

ASK THE COUNCIL FOR WALKS

Residents of Riverview and Glen Etta Have Signed a Petition.

Riverview park residents claim that when walking home on Racine street they are obliged to find a path for a third of the way through sand and mud for the lack of walks. L. S. Hillsbrandt who resides at No. 7 Glen Etta has circulated a petition which will be presented to the council. The signers demand that the sidewalk ordinance be enforced.

"I have found it unnecessary," returned Hamlet McFadden, coldly, "to go so far north for a frost."

Queer Advertisement for Six Fingert People.

A Chicago Professor Gets 155 Answers

Not long ago a professor of the University of Chicago advertised in a morning paper of that city for information concerning Hexadactylous, or six fingered people. He has received 155 answers from six toed or fingered people. Few persons can reckon up an inflation of six malapropisms at once, but there are multitudes afflicted with a nervousness which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would speedily restore to perfect health. Nervousness is usually complicated with constipation and dyspepsia, all these troubles being promptly remedied by the aid of the Bitters, which also overcomes and prevents neural complaints, rheumatism, nervousness and inactivity of the kidneys and bladder. Little tremors and anxieties often wear out the most vigorous constitution even early in life and induce premature decay of the vital energies. The most genial promoter of physical stamina in existence is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

HANNA'S RECORD CLEAR.

The attacks upon the labor record of Senator Hanna made by the democrats of Ohio have proven a boomerang. They were all based upon the statements of a single labor organization in Cleveland and have been so thoroughly counteracted and their falsity so completely shown by the statements of labor leaders all over the state and all over the country and by the men who have been many years in the employ of Mr. Hanna that they have reacted in his favor and to the disadvantage of the party which created and distributed them.

NO HURRY ABOUT CUBA.

People who were six months ago clamoring for instant action by the president on the Cuban question, now see that their demands were unreasonable and that the delay on the part of the president is likely to not only result advantageously to the Cubans but in a way which will prevent the serious complications and the blood shed which would have been likely to follow precipitate action such as was demanded during the opening months of the administration.

The United States has ceased to be a rival of any other country in the production of iron and steel, and now leads the world in both, which would not have been possible without a protective tariff.

Democrats who have been talking for Seth Low will almost without exception cast their votes for the Tammany candidate.

The sensation-mongers now report England as preparing to prevent the annexation of Hawaii. Even if England, or any other nation, were disposed to attempt to interfere, it is too late. Annexation is as good as accomplished.

The Kansas populist who declined to chip in ten cents to help Mrs. Lease, on the ground that she was "making a good thing" out of the campaign fund, was a wise man.

BURGESS LOST HIS CASE

Jury Found For A. C. Kent on the First Ballot

C. H. Burgess was defeated in his suit against A. C. Kent. He claimed that he made a contract in September, 1896, with A. C. Kent to run his furnace in his new flats on Main and Court streets, and to clean off the side walks. The contract was to continue until May 1, 1897. For this work he was to receive $20 a month. He alleged that at the end of February Mr. Kent discharged him without cause and he brought suit for two months' wages and a bill of $19.65 extra labor performed.

Mr. Kent, on the other hand, claimed that he hired Burgess for no specified length of time, but only so long as he should prove competent; that he was not competent, so he paid him in full and discharged him. The evidence showed that two months after Burgess was discharged he brought in a bill of $59.65 against Mr. Kent for services and extra work, which Mr. Kent refused to pay. The bill was as follows:

Janitor work, Sept. 28, 29, 30.....	$2.00
Janitor work, March and April.....	40.00
Fixing drafts and doors, October.....	1.00
Building coal bins, October.....	1.00
Taking off screens, October.....	1.00

Collecting rent, Mrs. Post, $60.....	3.30
Collecting rent, Warner.....	2.00
Collecting rent, Paul Colvin.....	.50
Total.....	$59.65

These items, the plaintiff claimed, were not included in his contract.

The jury went out at 5:55 and took one vote. It was all one way and in favor of the defendant.

FIRE IN HER HOME CAUSED HER DEATH

MRS. ROBERT A. ABELL PARTLY SUFFOCATED

Lamp Fell on the Floor of Her Bed Room and Set Fire to Clothing and Carpet—Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cuckow Extinguished the Flames.

Mrs. R. A. Abell died Saturday at 5:30 p. m. in consequence of partial suffocation.

She upset a lamp in her bedroom at 11 o'clock Thursday night and the fire spread rapidly, the room filling with dense smoke.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cuckow, in spite of their eight-three years, fought the fire valiantly and effectively and succeeded in putting it out.

Mr. and Mrs. Abell live in one wing of Mr. Cuckow's house, 153 South Main street. Mr. Abell is night watchman in the Lewis Knitting Works, and his wife was therefore left alone at night. She was nearly blind and was very feeble from the effects of an attack of paralysis from which she had but partly recovered. When ready to retire Thursday night she put the lamp on a small table near her bed and attempting to turn it out tipped it over, her hand being very unsteady from the effects of her paralytic seizure.

Room Full of Dense Smoke. When her screams awoke Mr. and Mrs. Cuckow they hurried to her aid. They found the room filled with dense smoke, and Mrs. Abell, who was still in the room, apparently helpless from fear. Mr. Cuckow, who went into the room first, could see no fire, the smoke being so dense as to almost stifle him. In a moment he saw a brighter spot in the further side of the room, and feeling his way across found that the fire was burning through the carpet and floor. Mrs. Abell's clothes, on a chair near the bed, were also on fire.

Quick Work Checked the Fire.

Mr. Cuckow called for water and as soon as his wife brought it, dashed it at the brightest mass of flames, subduing them in part. By this time the flames were spreading rapidly over the carpet but more water was brought by Mrs. Cuckow and after a sharp fight the fire was extinguished. It had gained such headway, however, that the door between the two wings, separating the room in which Mr. and Mrs. Cuckow slept from Mrs. Abell's bedroom, was just at the point of bursting into flames when water came.

Overcome By the Smoke.

When the flames had been extinguished it was found that all of Mrs. Abell's clothing had been destroyed and the carpet, floor and doorway badly burned. The long exposure to the suffocating fumes had nearly overcome Mrs. Abell and had a serious effect upon Mr. and Mrs. Cuckow although they were not in the room so long a time. Mrs. Abell seemed dazed by fright and could not leave the spot. Friday morning she seemed to have recovered in great measure and was about the house but Friday night she began to fail and died Saturday evening.

Leaves a Husband and Daughter.

Mrs. Abell was aged sixty-seven years. Beside her husband, Robert A. Abell, she left one daughter, Mrs. C. P. Stacey of Chicago, and three sisters—Mrs. Mary Montague and Mrs. Priscilla Dewey of Chicago, and Mrs. E. F. Lewis of Jackson street. The funeral services will be held at the home, 268 South Main street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Denison officiating.

No Time To Send Alarm.

Very little was known about the fire until today, and those who heard of it were quick to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Cuckow on their narrow escape. When Mr. Cuckow reached the scene of the fire it was manifest that prompt action was necessary. He felt that he did not dare risk the delay of sending in a fire alarm, and in spite of his eighty-three years, did such effective work that a very dangerous blaze was stopped from further spread.

BABY DEAD; FATHER DRUNK

Missionary Mary Kimball Finds a Case of Drowning on North Street.

Missionary Mary Kimball discovered a distressing state of affairs in a Bohemian family on North street. The two weeks old child was dead and no means were at hand to buy a coffin or provide for the funeral. The father lay helplessly drunk in bed. Miss Kimball provided a coffin, laid out the body herself and made all the funeral arrangements. The father was drunk all the way to the cemetery.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE TO END SUFFERING

C. C. BRINK'S SUICIDE DUE TO ILLNESS.

He Had Been a Great Sufferer From Stomach Trouble and Had Taken Morphine to Relieve the Pain—Killed Himself A Moment After His Wife Left.

Physical suffering and dread of the morphine habit drove Charles C. Brink to suicide Saturday night. He had suffered intensely from stomach trouble and had been under the care of physicians in Evansville, Janesville, Chicago and in Michigan sanitariums but seemed to receive no help.

During the summer morphine had been prescribed to alleviate his pain and enable him to rest. It became a necessity to him and when he stopped the use of it abruptly some time ago the effect on his nerves was manifest. Sent Wife Out of the Room.

Last Wednesday night he had another severe attack of stomach trouble and was confined to his bed. Saturday night he asked his wife to get him some bread and milk as he felt he could eat a little. She started at once to comply with his request. When she returned she heard a groaning in his room. It flashed over her that he had attempted his life as he had often threatened. She dared not go in but ran for assistance. Landlord Kendall and Mr. Gillman who were the first to meet her ran in and discovered Brink lying upon the bed with his razor in his relaxed right hand and his throat cut from ear to ear. Life was already extinct.

There was much to indicate that he had the plan of suicide in his mind for some time and asked for something to eat merely as an excuse to get his wife from the room. Might Have Been Sheriff. Mr. and Mrs. Brink had moved from their former home on Railroad street, to the Central House only a week ago in hopes that the change would benefit him. It was in his room at the hotel in Evansville, that the deed was committed.

Mr. Brink was about thirty-five years of age and was well known throughout the county. He had rendered efficient service as marshal of the village and was deputy sheriff at the time of his death. In the county convention a year ago he was one of the prominent candidates for sheriff and was believed by many to be the man most likely to receive the nomination in 1898. The news of his death came as a terrible blow to the people of Evansville, all of whom were his friends.

Wife and Child Survive Him.

Beside his wife, formerly Miss Josephine Schreiner of Monroe, a baby daughter survives him. His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac A. Brink, his brother Jay and his sister Mary, are residents of Evansville, while his elder brother, George, lives in this city.

The funeral will occur at the Methodist church in Evansville Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, of which order he was a prominent member.

Many Janesville friends will attend the funeral, a delegation going from Oriental Lodge No. 22, Knights of Pythias. The train leaves Janesville at 10:30 in the forenoon.

WHITELIGHTERS AFTER CASH

They Made Two Visits to American Express Office Saturday Night.

Members of the Whitelight club made two attempts to get whiskey money at the American Express office last night. They rapped at the back door about 7 o'clock and demanded money but were refused. After Messenger Volney Atwood had gone to bed he was aroused by a repetition of the rapping and when he went to the back door this time he took his revolver. Three Whitelighters were lined up at the back door and began an emphatic demand for cash but the sight of the weapon was the signal for precipitate flight.

RINGLING SEASON CLOSED

Last Day's Business Footed Up $8000 in a 3500 Town.

TERM OF FIVE YEARS FOR HENRY HAMMAS

SENTENCE PRONOUNCED BY JUDGE PHELPS.

Attorney Pierce Still Trying to Have His Client Go Free But the Prisoner is Not Hopeful—Last Time He Got a Three Year Sentence.

A five year's sentence looks Henry Hammam in the face. It was announced by Judge Phelps this morning and while a stay of execution was given until Saturday the prisoner was not hopeful of improving his chances.

Hammam was brought up for sentence at 10 o'clock. He had no wish to say anything in his own behalf and the formal declaration of a five year sentence was made. The penalty for horse stealing under the Wisconsin law ranges from two to fifteen years. When he was convicted before he got three years.

Attorney Pierce is hard at work preparing to sue out a writ of error in the supreme court. Mrs. Hammam sticks by her husband devotedly and declares that he is innocent.

FINE HORSES FOR THE SHOW

Rock County Breeders Sent Blooded Stock to the Chicago Show

The 10:30 Northwestern freight that left town Saturday night for Chicago carried a car of blooded horses and ponies bound for the horshow which opened in Chicago today. Robert Lilburn and McLay Bros. of Emerald Grove, and Phillips & Hadden of this city, were the shippers. Among those who accompanied the horses were Clifford Best, Andrew Connors, Glenn Furdick and Joseph Murray.

MAIN BLOOD VESSEL BROKE

Jury at the McNally Inquest Brought In Such a Verdict

Fireman William H. McNally, who dropped dead in his cab last Friday, at Oregon, was killed by the bursting of a blood vessel at or near the heart. The jury at the inquest brought in a verdict to this effect.

Mr. McNally, who was running on the Dakota passenger between Chicago and Winona on the Northwestern road, was well known in this city among railroad men.

Didn't Approve of the Feast.
The lesson was from the prodigal son, and the teacher was dwelling on the character of the elder brother.
"But amid all the rejoicing," he said, "there was one to whom the preparation of the feast brought no joy, to whom the prodigal's return gave no pleasure, but only bitterness; one who did not approve of the feast being held, and who had no wish to attend it. Now can any of you tell who this was?"
There was a breathless silence, followed by a vigorous cracking of thumbs, and then from a dozen sympathetic little geniuses came the chorus:
"Please, sir, it was the fatted calf!"
—Aberdeen Journal.

Plainly Stated.
"Am I to understand," said the candidate, "that nothing will induce you to work for me?"
The professional politician looked at him reproachfully and replied:
"I am surprised at you. A man of your experience ought to know, sir, that nothing will not induce me to do anything for anybody."—Washington Star.

Tenement Row Incidents.
Rudolph Pempernickel—A baby fell out of a fifth story window up the street, just now, onto a grocery store awning, and, after it wasn't hurt a bit!
Hans Meyerhoffer (storekeeper)—Dot was lucky! A baby fell out of a two story window onto my awning, alretty once, an' donner! It ripped a hole six foot long in it!—Brooklyn Eagle.

Geographical Item.
"What makes you so late?" asked Mrs. Chaffie.
"The teacher kept me in because I couldn't find Moscow on the map of Europe," replied Johnnie.
"No wonder you couldn't find Moscow. It was burned down in 1812. Its an outrage to treat a child that way!"
—N. Y. World.

A Ready Advocate.
"What this country wants to do," said the reformer, "is to raise the requirements for office holders."
"Exactly so," replied Senator Sorghum; "and allow me to remind you that the principal requirements of an office holder is his salary."—Washington Star.

Slightly Different.
"Now, really," said the Thoughtful Man, "did you ever see a woman who was homely enough to stop a clock by looking at it?"
"No," said the Nonsensical Chap, "but I have seen a woman stop a car by looking at the conductor."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

There is a Difference.
"I can argue with anybody here," said the contentious man fiercely. "I can argue."
"Oh, yes, you can argue," said the quiet little man in the corner; "the misfortune is that you can't reason."—Boston Traveler.

Two Ways to Win.
Foster—Look here, Felton! I took your advice on that horse Fello down, and I'm dead broke. I thought you said the owners were going to play him to win?
Felton—That's right. They did win. They bet against him.—Puck.

One Girl's Consolation.
When no one came her heart to win
It filled her full of woe,
But now she plays the violin,
And always has a bow.
—N. Y. Journal.

A REASONABLE EXPLANATION.

Misses—How is it that one never hears a sound in the kitchen when your sweetheart is with you of an evening?
Maid—Please, ma'am, the poor fellow is so bashful yet; for the present he does nothing but eat.—Leslie's Weekly.

Her Motto.
"Better late than never."
She said as she turned the lock—
He'd just proposed and said good-night,
And it was 12 o'clock!
—Chicago Record.

An Old Sinner.
Smith—Whenever I see Johnson I am reminded of the proverb that the good die young.
Brown—But he's 75 if he's a day.
Smith—Exactly. That's just my point.—Up-to-Date.

WARDROBE DETAILS.

Minutiae of Sleeves—To Line a Blouse For Outside Wear.

Belts for bodices are not so wide as they were, and consist of a ribbon or bias bands of goods slightly wrinkled.
Sleeves become smaller and smaller, and have but little fullness at the top. Epaulets and sleeve caps of various styles take the place of balloon puffs, and there is slight doubt that before long sleeves will be entirely plain. The wrists are cut in points or curves to fall over the hand, or have some sort of flaring cuff attached, cut in a circular form to make it stand out, or are even quite straight and plain, but in the latter case lace frills or linen cuffs are worn.

Although blouse bodices for gowns are made over a tight, close lining, and sleeves have also a fitted lining, blouse jackets for outside wear are lined in accordance with the shape of the outside, as are their sleeves, the lining being cut of the same form as the goods. These blouse jackets are to be very fashionable, and are seen in all sorts of materials, from cloth and plaid cloaking to the most costly velvet and furs, combined with embroidery and lace. One of the conspicuous models is of chinchilla fur and violet velvet. Speaking of fur, which is to be much worn this winter it is lavishly trimmed with delicate white and cream laces in the form of ruffles, and plaitings of bright silk, pinked at the edge, also serve as a decoration.

The illustration given today depicts a costume of striped silk in two tones of gray. The front of the skirt is framed by two panels, composed of bias folds of gray velvet, each one of which is ornamented by a button of old silver. The bodice consists of an arrangement of bias folds of velvet, opening in front over a plastron of red velvet. Over this are draperies of striped silk, fastened at the shoulders and forming a blouse at the waist. The close sleeves are of striped silk, the caps of folds of velvet, adorned with silver buttons. The belt and collar are of red velvet. The hat, of gray felt, is lifted high at one side and is trimmed with red ostrich plumes and red velvet flowers.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

COATS FOR GIRLS. SILK WAISTS.

We show the nobbiest line in town, among them being some of the higher class that are gems of the cloak makers' art—exclusive styles direct from New York. A line for Misses' wear in sizes 14, 16 and 18 also in stock.

Coats for Girls.

Three hundred sample Coats for Misses, sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20 years, inexpensive garments for school wear that are proper as regards style and make up. Cute Coats, ranging in price from $3 to $10, that would ordinarily be one-third more. Tell the girls to call in after school and see them.

Silk Waists

There is an air about the line we handle that attracts. Other stores show waists, but there is something lacking in them when compared to ours. The talk of the town among women is the excellence of our waist showings. All the latest in blouse effects are in the line.

Cloak Business is Big.

Such excellent styles as we show are the talk of the town. Three sample lines lately added to the stock make a display not equaled in the state. For misses there are many new things not found elsewhere. Our way of buying enables us to sell garments one third less than regular prices. In buying cloaks from us you get the productions of the best makers in America. Make no mistake by not seeing first how well you can do in this department.

Sable Fibre Cloth Blankets.

DEATH NESTS.

MUNYON TALKS ABOUT THE KIDNEYS.

"Wars and plagues," says Professor Munyon, "kill fewer people than diseases of the kidneys. In health these organs relieve the system of all poisonous material and discharge it through the urine. If diseased the poison remains in the blood and increases by minute quantities, piling up atom by atom, until the system can no longer resist its efforts. The heart is poisoned. Its action fails and dropsy appears. The nervous system is poisoned and convulsions are followed by death. Have you neglected your kidneys? Have you been a heavy drinker? Have you allowed a cold to settle in these organs? Have you overworked your stomach, liver, or nervous system, and thrown more strain on your kidneys than they can bear? No matter what the cause, trust our Kidney Cure. It is the joint product of the most eminent and successful physicians of the world, and has cured thousands of cases. I will guarantee that my Kidney Cure will cure 95 per cent. of all forms of kidney disease. When the disease is far advanced and there are other complications patients had better send a four-ounce vial of their urine, with full symptoms. We will then make a careful analysis of the water, and advise the best course to pursue to get well, absolutely free of charge."

Prof. Munyon has a separate specific for each disease. They may be obtained from druggists, and nearly all are 25 cents a vial. Personal letters to Prof. Munyon, 1505 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

Amplified Elucidated.

"Mammy," said Pickaninny Jim, "what does white folks mean when dey talk ob language habbin' lots o' shades o' meanin'?"

"Doan' you know what dem is?"

"No, mammy."

"Well, I'll illustify. 'Dah's yoh uncle, he a black man; yoh fathah, he's a dark-skin man. Yoh oldest brother's a brown-skin man, an' yoh next brother's a bright-skin man. An' dar you is."

—Washington Star.

May and December.

Aged Groom—My dear, I have bought the palace you most admired, the horses you most liked, and all the jewelry you took a fancy to. Is there nothing else I can buy for you?

Young Bride—No, indeed, my love, don't get anything more for me. Buy something for yourself, my dear. Buy a cemetery lot.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Spoiled Compliment.

"You her mother? No; Time missed his measure."

Rather sister, so the graces woo you," Then he added, as she smiled with pleasure, "She looks old enough for sister to you."

—Judge.

STILL DOUBTFUL.

Visitor—You say your mistress is getting better. Is she out of danger?

Servant—We hope so. But as she is still under the doctor's care, who knows what may happen?—Journal Amusant.

After the Wedding.

"Why so thoughtful?" asked the bride.

"Well," replied the groom, "I've just been thinking how I worried for two years for fear I wouldn't get you."

"And now?"

"Why, now, when I think it all over I can't help kicking myself for being such a fool as to marry."—Chicago Post.

J. C. Barry, one of the best known citizens of Spencer, Mo., testifies that he cured himself of the worst kind of piles by using a few boxes of Dr. Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. He had been troubled with piles for over thirty years and had used many different kinds of so-called cures, but Dr. Witt's was the one that did the work and he will verify this statement if any one wishes to write him. MATERIALS.

The Season's Novelties—Some Standard Goods—Popular Furs.

Among the new goods there will be many having stripes or large ribs running crosswise. The majority show changeable effects or black ribs on a colored ground, red, green, blue or yellow, the black being mohair, the ground wool, or sometimes the colored ground is mohair and the black ribs are silk. In the horizontally striped goods black is also combined with colors and has a satintlike finish.

Damasse materials having a mohair design on a mixed ground are to be employed for gowns, vests and short capes.

There are many new moires, into which figures, stripes and undulating effects enter.

Velvet will play an important part in the winter wardrobe. Ribbed, plain, plaid and fancy, it will be largely used. Corduroy likewise is in favor for blouses, jackets and entire costumes. Bodices are made of striped, figured or checked velvet, and plain velvet of bright colors is employed for the decoration of costumes, or even for entire gowns. Liberty velvets compose elegant tailor made costumes and little girls' gowns, while plaid velvets are used for very small children.

Bodices remain rather loose in form, but have a tight lining. The basque is short for belted corsets, but a little longer for straight jackets. Collars are high and flaring, lined or bordered with fur.

Fur retains its position at the crest of the wave of fashion. Beavers and little sacks of astrakhan, caracul, fox and chinchilla will be worn, and peleries of sable trimmed with tails. These peleries should not be long to be pretty, but when they are short they afford very little warmth. Ermine is much more employed as a lining than for entire wraps, long pile furs being preferred for the outside and for decoration.

A picture is given of a winter hat of black chenille. The brim is much bent and curved, lifting away from the face. It is trimmed with ruffles of chenille braid and with black ostrich plumes. An arrangement of pearl gray velvet surrounds the crown and a chon of velvet is placed at the left side, next the hair, with an ornament of pearls, steel and turquoise.

Stove business Is wonderful!!!

This year. We catch most every prospective Stove buyer; a few of them get away, not many though. People always look around among all the Stove stocks in the city, but they finally land at the really only complete stock in Southern Wisconsin. OUR SALES AVERAGE ONE CARLOAD OF STOVES A WEEK. We are busy as bees, and intend, as we always have, to keep prices low enough to hold every purchaser.

So many people are in doubt when they buy anything--even a 5c purchase. All feeling of this kind is dispelled in your Stove purchases at our store; there is no room for doubt.

WE picked seven makes of Stoves as our sellers--not one of them with a fault--and every one a gem for the house:

Garlands,

Over three millions in use.

Jewels,

Over two millions in use.

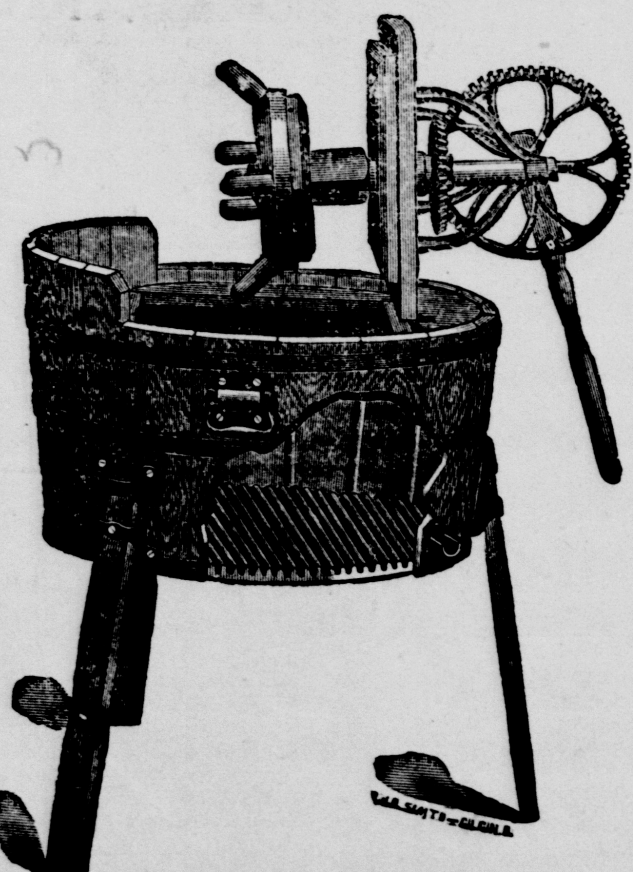

Jewetts,

Three and one-half millions in use.
